5. Distribution and discussion of general legislative and procedure information - - Interim charges of oversight committees | Ms. Hildebrand presented the Committee with information on Interim Charges of Oversight Committees. The first was a hearing of the House Committee on Licensing & Administrative Procedures on August 23rd. There were multiple questions from Legislators during this hearing.

The second hearing was in the Senate on October 5th of the Committee on Business and Commerce. The Board discussed the perspectives shared by Senator Don Huffines and Senator Charles Schwertner regarding regulation of professions.

The committee discussed issues relating to the North Carolina Dental case, immunity of regulatory Boards, and anti-competitive actions. Another topic of interest was the testimony of the Institute of Justice and their suggestion that a committee be created by the OAG to review any rule before it is voted on by a Board or Commission.

Ms. Hildebrand informed the Committee that Mr. Brenton was researching this issue and would report on his findings.

Ms. Dockery inquired as to whether the agency was subject to a lawsuit for anti-competitive action. Ms. Hildebrand stated that the agency’s insurance policy does not cover antitrust actions.
Mr. Lancaster discussed the notion of “economic liberty” and stated that TDLR’s deregulation of six (6) occupational groups may be enough deregulation to stave off additional deregulation of professions in the upcoming session after the Legislature deals with emergency issues.

Mr. Lancaster informed the Committee that the Licensing and Administrative Procedures Committee Report has not been released yet. He noted that several of the members of the previous Committee will not be coming back, including Chairman Smith.

Ms. Hildebrand gave the Committee background on the Sunset Report that was just released regarding smaller healthcare agencies. They have recommended that a number of them be transferred to TDLR. She explained that this would be the first group of professionals with degrees ever to be regulated by TDLR. She stated that this will occur over the next three years, FY2018, FY2019 and FY2020.

Ms. Hildebrand stated that she and the Communications Manager attended the Biennial Legislative & Communications Conference. She informed the Committee that there was extensive discussion on hot topics and TBAE was not mentioned.

The Committee discussed the issues regarding interior design deregulation and suggestions for Ms. Hildebrand testifying before the Legislature. Ms. Hildebrand informed the Committee that she will be creating a document for RID’s practice analysis. Ms. Vining stated that TAID will be filing a bill to repeal the examination requirement. The Committee decided to have the next meeting in conjunction with the next Board meeting.

The Chair thanked the Committee members for their time and work.

A MOTION WAS MADE AND SECONDED (Bearden/Wetmore) TO ADJOURN AT 12:22 P.M. THE MOTION PASSED UNANIMOUSLY.

APPROVED BY THE COMMITTEE:

MICHAEL (CHAD) DAVIS, RLA
Chair, TEXAS BOARD OF ARCHITECTURAL EXAMINERS
SENATE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS & COMMERCE

REPORT TO THE 85th LEGISLATURE

November 2016
INTERIM STUDY CHARGES
BACKGROUND, FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Review all occupations licensed under Texas law to determine the extent to which continued state regulation and licensure is required to protect public health and safety. Examine methods to ensure greater legislative oversight of new regulations, scope, and necessity of certain licenses and make recommendations for state licenses that should be repealed or transitioned to private-sector enforcement.

BACKGROUND

Today the State of Texas has over 500 occupational license certifications for specific trades and professions that are administered and overseen by various boards and agencies within state government. In 2013, the House Committee on Government Efficiency and Reform issued a report that stated 1 in 3 Texans are subjected to licensing requirements before they are able to work in their desired professions.¹

The agency responsible for administering the most licensing programs within the state is the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation (TDLR), which oversees 32 license programs to include 168 individual license types. As of September 1, 2016, TDLR was responsible for licensing 679,280 license holders in occupations ranging from barbers and cosmetologists to speech language pathologists.² The core purpose of the agency is to protect the health and safety of Texans and ensure they are served by qualified professionals.³

Each licensure requirement has been specifically created by the Texas Legislature, and each requirement can only be eliminated if the Legislature decides it is appropriate to do so. The opportunity for the legislature to address existing licensure programs surfaces through the biennial appropriations process and the periodic Texas Sunset Commission (Sunset) reviews that examine the continued need for most state agencies. Sunset, however, lacks statutory direction to examine the continued need for specific licensure programs administered by state agencies under their review. Traditionally, Sunset simply reports and makes recommendations on whether the agency should be abolished, and if not, how it might operate more efficiently.

² Written testimony from Brian Francis, Executive Director, Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation, to Texas Senate Committee on Business & Commerce, October 5, 2016.
Since 2005, the Sunset Commission has recommended consolidating many smaller licensing boards and divisions under the overall regulatory umbrella of TDLR. As recently as the 85th Regular Session, the Legislature adopted SB 202, a Sunset Recommendation to consolidate thirteen health related licensure programs previously overseen by the Department of State Health Services (DSHS), and move them under TDLR. As an additional recommendation, the Legislature adopted HB 1786, which moved the Parent Taught Driver Education Program from the Department of Public Safety (DPS) and the Driver and Traffic Safety Education Program from the Texas Education Agency (TEA), both to TDLR.4

Because the Legislature has continued to insist on more efficient government regulation of businesses and trades, the policy trend since 1999 has been toward the consolidation of licensure responsibilities under as few agencies as possible, while maintaining the overall mission of protecting the public’s health and safety. During this 17-year period, TDLR’s responsibilities have increased from regulating 17 programs in 1999 to the 32 programs previously mentioned and 168 license types. During that same period, TDLR’s licensee population has increased from 116,000 to over 680,000.5

As a regulator, TDLR's primary mandate is to determine licensure requirements that protect the health and safety of Texans. It is also charged with ensuring they are served by qualified individuals in each of the regulated programs. This in turn necessitates that the agency evaluate whether licensing requirements are still appropriate or needed. TDLR does this through formulation of the biennial Strategic Plan or "Strat Plan."

Since the "Strat Plan" encompasses a five-year period of review, TDLR asks regulated programs to give guidance on their forward outlook of how they see their regulated industries changing to indicate whether continued regulation would be needed to fulfill the agencies' core mission. This is manpower intensive, but provides a mechanism for the state's continual review over a large segment of occupational licensure programs.

The Strat Plan Overview includes consideration of the following actions when assessing both the need for and effectiveness of existing licensure programs and license types.

- Deregulation of Programs
- Elimination of Licenses
- Transfer of Programs
- Elimination of License Impediments
- Elimination of Redundancies
- Elimination of Government Interference with Business Practices
- Removal of Inflexible, Rigid, and Excessive Requirements
- Removal of Criminal and Civil Penalties for Administrative Violations.\(^7\)

As an example of this process, the agency has advocated for the repeal and deregulation of four programs and seven license types in its 2016 Strategic Plan.

Although Texas has a regulatory structure for licensure similar to many other states, reciprocity for license holders moving into Texas is still an obstacle for many new license applicants with comparable certifications from elsewhere in the United States. TDLR for one, has made several

As TDLR has incorporated more specialized and complex licensing duties, the agency's governing commission of seven commissioners and the Executive Director act as the final authority on proposed rules that subordinate advisory boards may recommend for specific licensing programs. This structure may in fact act as a benefit for the state given recent federal legal action. The United State Supreme Court recently ruled on what the appropriate industry representation should be on licensure boards in North Carolina State Board of Dental Examiners v. Federal Trade Commission.

Brian Francis, Executive Director of TDLR, summarized the findings of the case saying that "the ruling said that the Dental Board in North Carolina was composed primarily of dentists, and licensees, when passing rules that impacted their profession." He stated that "there wasn’t enough market separation, and potential for conflicts of interest, and that this violated anti-trust and anti-competitive provisions in federal law to ensure that professions are not regulating themselves."

By implication, licensure boards across the country will be assessed to see whether changes need to be made to their board compositions to preserve "sovereign immunity" protections for regulators acting in their official capacity. When pressed by Senator Schwertner on the issue, asking whether TDLR's current structure preserves sovereign immunity, Brian Francis responded in the affirmative.\textsuperscript{13}

Although TDLR has taken meaningful steps to enhance its ability to make recommendations that tear down barriers to entry, the Texas Supreme Court Case of \textit{Patel v. Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation} exemplifies how difficult it can be for average people to fight overly burdensome regulations.\textsuperscript{14} As Arif Panju with the Institute for Justice testified, "This was a landmark ruling regarding eyebrow threaders." The case cited conditions for licensure that required people seeking a license to undergo a 750 hour program (that would take four and half months to complete at a rate of 40 hours per week) in order to certify as an "esthetician." As Mr. Panju stated, "It took 6 years of litigation to declare the case unconstitutional, but it represents the Texas Supreme Court departing from federal jurisprudence to affirm that economic liberty under the Texas Constitution is more meaningfully protected than under the U.S. Constitution."\textsuperscript{15}

Mr. Panju cited recognition by the Obama Administration that licensing, nationally, has become a significant barrier to entry for lower income and minority Americans. The White House recently issued a study capturing its findings on licensure trends observed across the 50 states. The report reflects that "licensing requirements vary substantially by state, creating barriers to workers moving across state lines and inefficiencies for businesses and the economy as a whole."\textsuperscript{16}

Recommendations incorporated into the federal report include the following:

- Limiting licensing requirements to those that address legitimate public health and safety concerns to ease the burden of licensing on workers.
- Applying the results of comprehensive cost-benefit assessments of licensing laws to reduce the number of unnecessary or overly-restrictive licenses.
- Within groups of States, harmonizing regulatory requirements as much as possible, and where appropriate entering into inter-State compacts that recognize licenses from other States to increase the mobility of skilled workers.
- Allowing practitioners to offer services to the full extent of their current competency, to ensure that all qualified workers are able to offer services.\textsuperscript{17}

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Committee, after deliberative discussion, finds that state licensure requirements have become so numerous, costly, and elaborate that an unintended consequence is the result: to the very nature of state certification for new professional entrants now acts as a deterrent for business formation and development. The Committee further recognizes that there is most certainly a need for professional licensure in certain critical areas and that the state's mission to preserve the health and safety of Texans through the regulation of trades is warranted. However, many occupational licensure requirements go well beyond this core mission, and on face, pose a barrier to entry for the same Texans seeking a better life.

Therefore, the Committee recommends the following:

• The Legislature should continue the policy of consolidating minor boards and licensure programs under as few agencies as possible. This will enhance the Sunset Commission's ability to review the necessity of continued licensure requirements in specific areas as part of an enhanced evaluation of a major agency's functions. It will also highlight for the Legislature the need to examine licensure requirements as part of the discussion for a major agency's reauthorization and appropriations requests.

• Furthermore, when taking up Sunset Recommendations on agencies administering licensing programs, the Legislature should strongly consider enacting specific sunset dates for individual licensing programs. This would necessitate periodic legislative review and reauthorization as to affirm a continued need for professional certification and government involvement.
providing opportunities to military students. President Serrata testified that in the past five years, foregone tuition due to Hazelwood exemptions has cost EPCC $5,928,634; while EPCC has only been reimbursed $160,865, less than 3%, of what was spent.

BRIGADIER GENERAL NORRIS with the TMD also touched upon Charge #6, providing information on utilization of the State Tuition Reimbursement Program (STRP), a state-funded tuition assistance program for active drilling members of the Texas Army National Guard, the Texas Air National Guard, and the Texas State Guard. The benefit provides an award payment for up to 6 credit hours and associated mandatory fees with a maximum payout of $2,250 per semester. This program requires all federal and state tuition benefits including grants, the GI Bill, and the Hazlewood exemption, to be used before the STRP. Since 2012, there has been a 63% growth in utilization of this program.

JON LARVICK, Sheppard Military Affairs Committee President, testified about the benefits of the Interstate Compact on Educational Opportunity for Military Children, citing it as a very successful program. He implored the Committee to continue to explore ways in which military Service Members, Veterans, and their families can receive exemptions and waivers for trade certifications and occupational licensing in the State of Texas.

BOB GEAR, Director of the Texas Veterans Leadership Project (TVLP) with the Texas Workforce Commission, provided testimony on efforts regarding Charge #6, with a particular focus on initiatives that seek to translate military skills and MOS specialties into their corresponding civilian skills and education, which can then be utilized for resume writing and job matching services.

HISTORY OF HAZLEWOOD

As part of the State of Texas's long history of supporting military Veterans and their families, the Hazelwood Act has offered qualified military Veterans the opportunity to attend public colleges and universities within the state with an exemption of tuition and up to 150 credit hours of coursework. The origins of this program date back to 1923, when the state first began to offer exemptions for tuition and fees for returning Veterans and nurses who served during World War I. In 1943, the program was updated to include World War II Veterans, in an effort led by Texas Senator Grady Hazlewood, for whom the legislation was named. A history of the changes in the Hazelwood Act is delineated below⁸.

- 1923: 38th Texas Legislature directs public Institutions of Higher Learning in Texas to exempt tuition and fees charged to WWI veterans and nurses who were citizens of Texas

- 1929: Veterans and Nurses from the Spanish-American War added to the list of eligible recipients

- 1943: SB 81 by Senator Grady Hazlewood and Senator George Moffett amends the Hazelwood Act to include members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, Women's Auxiliary Volunteer Emergency Service, and Veterans of World War II. Hazlewood was
