Instructions:

- 1) For structured course study, list titles of all courses, seminars, workshops or related study that you wish to apply to this registration period, including title and course number if available, date of completion, and number of total credit hours awarded, including the amount of credit that qualifies as “HSW”, “barrier-free”, “energy efficient” and/or “sustainable design.”
In addition, you must provide acceptable supporting documentation for structured course study, such as a certificate of completion, letter from the provider/instructor or a transcript from AIA, IDCEC, or ASLA/LACES.
- 2) For self-directed study, list a description of the activity, date of completion, and the number of total credit hours claimed for each activity, including the amount of credit that qualifies as “HSW”, “barrier-free”, “energy efficient” and/or “sustainable design.”
In addition, you must provide acceptable supporting documentation for self-directed study, which must include a signed and dated copy of the first page of the material, marked with the number of hours claimed for the activity.
- 3) Please only list activities for a specific registration period. Including more than the required CEPH credits may delay the review of your documentation and the outcome of our findings. However, if you are carrying forward excess CEPH credit from previous periods you will be required to supply completed logs and supporting documentation for each of those periods in addition to the period under review.
- 4) Board rules 1.69, 3.69, and 5.79 address continuing education requirements for architects, landscape architects, and registered interior designers, respectively. To review these and other rules, visit TBAE’s website at <https://www.tbae.texas.gov/statutes-rules/>.
- 5) For additional information regarding the continuing education requirements, please refer to TBAE’s website at <https://www.tbae.texas.gov/cerequirements/>.
